DETAILED ACTION

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 102

The following is a quotation of the appropriate paragraphs of 35 U.S.C. 102 that form the basis for the rejections under this section made in this Office action:

A person shall be entitled to a patent unless –

(b) the invention was patented or described in a printed publication in this or a foreign country or in public use or on sale in this country, more than one year prior to the date of application for patent in the United States.

(e) the invention was described in (1) an application for patent, published under section 122(b), by another filed in the United States before the invention by the applicant for patent or (2) a patent granted on an application for patent by another filed in the United States before the invention by the applicant for patent, except that an international application filed under the treaty defined in section 351(a) shall have the effects for purposes of this subsection of an application filed in the United States only if the international application designated the United States and was published under Article 21(2) of such treaty in the English language.

(e) the invention was described in a patent granted on an application for patent by another filed in the United States before the invention thereof by the applicant for patent, or on an international application by another who has fulfilled the requirements of paragraphs (1), (2), and (4) of section 371(c) of this title before the invention thereof by the applicant for patent.

The changes made to 35 U.S.C. 102(e) by the American Inventors Protection Act of 1999 (AIPA) and the Intellectual Property and High Technology Technical Amendments Act of 2002 do not apply when the reference is a U.S. patent resulting directly or indirectly from an international application filed before November 29, 2000. Therefore, the prior art date of the reference is determined under 35 U.S.C. 102(e) prior to the amendment by the AIPA (pre-AIPA 35 U.S.C. 102(e)).

1. Claims 1, 3-12 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 102(b) as being anticipated by US Patent No. 4740195 to Lanciano.

Lanciano teaches a medical catheter having an entrance orifice, and exit orifice, a channel connecting the entrance orifice and the exit orifice and a wall surrounding the channel, the hardness of the wall surrounding the channel decreases in hardness then increases in hardness and then decrease again in hardness when considered from an initial reference point at the entrance orifice and traveling towards the exit orifice. A second catheter located within the first catheter, the first catheter sized to allow the second catheter to move within it. A third catheter located within the second catheter, the second catheter is sized to allow the third catheter to move within it. (figure 1)

2. Claims 1-2, 4-8, 28 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 102(e) as being anticipated by US Patent No.6623449 to Paskar

Paskar teaches a catheter having an entrance orifice, and exit orifice, a channel connecting the entrance orifice and the exit orifice and a wall surrounding the channel, the hardness of the wall surrounding the channel decreases in hardness then increases in hardness and then decrease again in hardness when considered from an initial reference point at the entrance orifice and traveling towards the exit orifice. A second catheter located within the first catheter, the first catheter sized to allow the second catheter to move within it. The second catheter has a plurality of flushing orifices sized to allow fluid to pass from an outside surface the second catheter to an inside surface to the second catheter. (figures 10-15, 18, 23a-24b)
